DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election of Invention I, claims 1-3 in the reply filed on October 3, 2007 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)). Applicant has amended claims 4-7 to read upon the elected invention; therefore, claims 4-7 will not be withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The specification does not describe the steps for "a method of fabricating a denture."

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. It is not clear as to what is the definition of "impression" as the steps claim taking an impression, installing positioning screws in the impression and making on the impression a drilling or transfer template, and it is not clear what is meant by “interlocking of the impression posts of the implants with the transfer template by fixation at the positioning screws in the impression or in the jaw.” Recitation of “the set positioning screws”, “the impression posts” in claim 1, “the templates and parts” in claim 4, “the contact surfaces” in claim 5, “the spherical head” and “the shank” in claim 7 lack sufficient antecedent basis. It is not clear what is “it” in claim 7.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1-5 and 7 are rejected as understood, under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kwan (2002/0039718). Kwan discloses a dental method comprising setting screws 10 provided with an attached element 40 into the alveolar process, taking an impression of the set and capturing the actual state of the jaw, installing positioning screws (analog) 56 in the impression [0111], making a transfer template for technical dental work in the mouth [0118]. Figure 20 shows at the three positioning screws. The positioning screws are set in bone with the help of a hole 84. The positioning screws 10 have a threaded part, working surfaces, a contact surface, and shank without a thread between the threaded part and contact surface. Kwan shows spherical head 40 detachably connected to the shank of the screw and may be screwed on [0078].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kwan in view of DeVincenzo (6,379,154). Kwan discloses a dental screw that shows the limitations as described above and having a hexagonal nut; however, Kwan does not show a spherical head being of a smaller diameter than the hexagonal nut. DeVincenzo teaches a dental screw having a hexagonal nut and a spherical head being of smaller diameter than the nut (figure 4). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have the head of DeVincenzo to be able to slip the tool over the head.
